SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Window breaking is lots of fun for boys. There are probably a few who have never enjoyed the momentary excitement of hearing the crash as the rock lands and then the spurt to get away from the locality. But it is costly and often very inconvenient habit and should not be tolerated. Taking advantage of the fact that no one occupies a building, vandals have been busy lately seeing how much damage they can do and as a result, few vacant buildings have any windows left. Officers have been asked to cooperate in apprehending the youths and examples will be made of those caught.

More examples of careless or reckless driving have been offered here this week. Four people are in a Reno hospital fighting for their very lives as the result of a moment's carelessness on the Tahoe highway. And it is just fortunate that others were not killed or seriously injured in the same crash. Officers said the driver had been drinking.

After a flurry of activities during which a riot was threatened, the situation at Boca resumed the same aspect as it had two weeks ago, more than a hundred men recently employed on the big job are still without work. Construction of the dam is still at a standstill. Negotiations have not been made for a settlement and as a general result the union men, the contractors and the public as a whole are dissatisfied and out financially. There should be an easier way of ending strikes or shutdowns, as the cause may be.

There will be another meeting of the Truckee River Sportsmen's association Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. At the last meeting five attended. That was a very poor showing, especially in as much as fishing is one of Truckee's principal industries, drawing thousands of vacationists here annually. It should be a duty for everyone interested in Truckee's day to attend the meeting Fri- taining to the sport will be discussed.

Truckee is one of the best lighted little cities in the west. It's almost startling to round the bend in the highway and see the brilliant display of Neon signs and electroliers. We may well boast that ours is the best lighted town of its size in the state. And each week sees some progressive merchant adding to the display. We are fortunate in having such low power and lighting rates here.

Few people realize that Truckee, despite the fact that it is primarily a resort center, has a substantial payroll. The Southern Pacific Company's payments twice each month are, we believe the largest here, but even in our private industries, no trivial sum is put into circulation each month. Take for example the Fontana Laundry where 26 men and women are on the weekly payroll, or the Truckee-Tahoe Lumber Company which employs an equal number. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph also has a large local payroll and there are numerous other concerns which boast a number of employes. These payrolls contribute materially to the welfare of the community and offer another good reason for buying at home.

CHARGES TO FOLLOW LAKE TAHOE CRASH AS GIRL IS HURT

Charges of reckless driving will be placed against Miss Patricia Ledyard of Berkeley, river of the car in which Miss Betty Koehler, 19, of Burlingame, was injured this week, State Patrolman Gene Walker announced after an investigation.

Miss Koeler suffered a badly lacerated lip and several teeth broken in a collisilon on hazardous Hog Pen Hill, a mile and a half north east of Tahoe City.

Miss Koehler was riding in the car driven by Miss Ledyard when it collided with a machine driven by John Williams of Galt. None of the others were injured.

All parties involved in the accident are vacationing at Lake Tahoe.

HOUSE TRAILER IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Highway patrolmen were called to a point near the Big Chief camp on the Tahoe highway last week to investigate the demolition of a house trailer by fire. The charred remains of the trailer were on the highway, but the car and driver were not immediately located.

JURY FREES RENO WOMAN AS TRIAL HERE CONCLUDED

Evidence Not Sufficient To Show Recklessness Jury Decides

TWO BADLY INJURED

Jury Out Only Short Time In Local Justice Court Trial

Mrs. Vesta G. Brown, Reno optometrist, was cleared of charges of reckless driving placed against her by Fred Garbolino of Roseville, by a jury in the justice court of C. E. Smith here Tuesday.

The trial was the outgrowth of an automobile accident at Kingvale on May 9, last, when the car driven by Mrs. Brown and one operated by Garbolino, assistant fire chief at Roseville, collided, causing serious injuries to Mrs. Mary Garbolino and Miss Elloise Garbolino.

Charged in the complaint signed by Garbolino, Mrs. Brown asked for a jury trial. There was insufficient evidence introduced by the plaintiff to prove the defendant was driving in a reckless manenr and the jury was only a few minutes before returning the not guilty verdict

Members of the jury were Frank S. Powell, foreman; M. L. Cooper, C. Edmunds, Herbert Fuller, Winifred McGwynn, Benjamin Tonini, Edward Brouse, O. A. Gee, Charles MacChristie and G. E. Hofmann.

Two Injured As Car Crashes On Donner Highway

Stage Involved in Accident On Summit; Passengers Not Injured

Two men were injured, neither seriously, Sunday night when the car in which they were riding crashed headon into a Greyhound stage on Donner Summit. The stage, due in Truckee at 6:15 P. M., was damaged, but the passengers were uninjured.

The driver of the car, Theodore Boblett of San Francisco, and his passenger, H. G. O'Connell of Los Angeles, escaped with cuts and bruises. They were treated by Dr. J. H. Bernard.

The stage arrived nearly an hour late in Truckee.

CONTINUE EFFORTS TO HAVE STREETS ALLEYS HERE CLEAN

With the sanitary board announcing a setback in it's plans to have the streets and alleys kept clean by employment of a man and truck to do the work through an added assessment if necessary and the chamber of commerce still insisting that measures be taken to have the improvement done, the project is more or less at a standstill.

C. E. Hofmann, secretary of the sanitary board said he had an opinion from District Attorney Vernon Stoll which cripples plans to proceed on the original idea of employing a man and truck. It is hoped this obstacle can be surmounted and efforts are being continued on that line.

E. Kocher, checking station officer, who had been informed by state teletype of the accusations against Haddock and his description.

Four Local People Escape When Car Overturns On Road

Car Strikes Bridge Near Lawton Springs, Overturns

Four well known local residents miraculously escaped death on Wednesday when the automobile in which they were riding hit a bridge one mile this side of Lawton Springs on the Reno highway and turned over twice.

Mrs. Harold Laity, who was operating the vehicle and Mrs. Robert Bick, Mrs. Lotta Bryant and Constable William Bottcher were returning from Nevada about one o'clock in the afternoon when the accident occured. The fact that the car was going at a moderate rate of speed probably prevented more serious injuries to the occupants.

Mrs. Bryant will be confined for several days with a sprained knee and other than shock, the other three occupants of the car escaped injuries. The cause of the accident was not learned.

New Fire Truck Sees Service In Brummond Blaze

Incipient Fire Controlled As New Truck Called To Blaze

Truckee's new fire truck went into action for the first time here last Friday morning when an incipient chimney blaze caused a small amount of damage to F. H. Brummond house on East Main Street.

Discovered by George Markell, proprietor of the Stone Garage, immediately opposite the house, the fire had not gained much headway before the alarm was turned in and the new truck was on the scene.

Within two minutes after the arrival of the truck the emergency hose had the situation in hand. Chief Tom Dolley was in charge.

PATHWA TO HISTORIC CABIN SITE PAINTED

The pathway to the historic Gray cabin was located near Donner Lake at the time the ill-fated Donner party spent winter there, has been invitingly painted by F. S. BOCA DEADLOCK UNBROKEN AS RIOT SCARES PASS

Situation At Damsite Still Unchanged Despite New Offers

BACKED BY RENO BODY

Pickets Meet A. F. Of L. Men With Threats; Battle Called Off

In spite of the threatened riot yesterday, the situation at Boca, where a $1,000,000 reclamation project is at a standstill following a shut-down two weeks ago, remains the same today as it did at that time, according to reliable sources.

Sixty American Federation of Labor men yesterday went to the dam to work, but after discovering th e picket lines maintained by the CIO, refused to go onto the property and returned to Sacramento.

During the disturbance caused by the arrival of the men, one man was struck on the head with a rock and injured. The one fight marked the threatened storm. The man was attempting to cross the well-fortified CIO picket line.

Hearing that the new crew was enroute to Boca, CIO members gathered for battle, armed themselves with stones, bottles and scraps of reinforcing steel to await the arrival of the opposition. Two hours after their arrived, the A. F. of L. men had a conference with the CIO, returned to their cars and went back to Sacramento, leaving the battlefield unscarred.

Shortly before the arrival of the Sacramento delegation H. R. Cook, attorney from Sacramento, representing the Condon Construction Company, announced that the company did not plan bringing in strike breakers and said that a peaceful settlement was anticipated for the near future.

"We are working on a plan now to end the difficulty and have the men back on their jobs soon," Cook declared. "We have no intention of bringing in strike-breakers."

Sam Wolfe, one of the CIO organizers, declared yesterday that an A. F. of L. contract had been tendered by the company representatives, but that it had been refused.

"There is one union, and only one, on the Boca job," Wolfe said. "The company has declined to arbitrate with the CIO and we will not return to work or permit others to work there until they do.

"The situation at Boca." he continued, "is just the same as it was 14 days ago."

The contract offered by the company officials was being read to the men right at the time the Sacramento delegation put in an appearance and this demonstration put a hurried end to the brief promise of peace.

Coming as a surprise locally, word was received from Reno today that the Reno central trades and laobr council of the A. F. of L. unions last night unanimously voted moral support to the CIO in its picketing at Boca.

The decision of the Reno labor group climaxed the attempts of the California A. F. of L. leaders, carrying out a request of the Condon Condon Construction Company to bring the 60 workers from Sacramento to resume work on the project.

The men from Sacramento ignored the plea of George Wilson business representative of the shovel and dredge operators union, to crash through the picket line.

It is understood that a revised wage scale was offered the Boca CIO men providing they sign the agreement to affiliate themselves with the A. F. of L. The scale would give them an increase of 20 to 40 per cent in many instances.

It provided raises in pay as follow, according to word from Boca: Labor 45 to 62½ cents an hour; shovel operator, $1.10 to $1.50 per hour; Jack hammer men, 70 cents to 90 cents per hour; truck drivers, 80 cents to 90 cents; steel placers, 82½ to $1.10 per hour.

Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and several deputies were present at the damsite yesterday but took no sides in the issue.

Youths To Meet Old Timers Here In Sunday Game

Test Of Ability Will Be Feature Of Game Sunday

A baseball game which promises to be of more than passing interest, in which it will be decided whether youth or experience is the most potent factor in the national pastime, will be played on the local diamond Sunday as the high school boys meet the "old-timer" of Truckee.

The approaching contest is creating cnsiderable interest as father meets son and youth comes forth to prove its place in the world of sport.

Many of the old timers have had many years of experience in baseball, but the boys promise to show them things they never knew. It will be a game worth spending a couple of hours to watch.

Window Breaking Will Be Stopped As Officers Busy

18 Windows In Pavilion Are Broken By Vandals Says Report

Efforts are being redoubled to apprehend the vandals, believed to be small boys, who are responsible for the increasing number of broken windows in this vicinity. Strict measures will be taken to bring an end to the mischief, officers declared.

At the winter sports pavillion, 18 windows have been broken during the past few weeks, either with small calibre rifles or stones, according to C. Edmunds, manager.

Nearly every vacant house in the town has suffered a similiar fate and authorities are determined to bring the vandalism to a stop. Some of the mischief makers are said to be known by authorities.

ENGLEHART TELLS OF ART STUDIES AT LIONS' MEET

William Englehart, Jr., art student in one of the large schools of Los Angeles, last night explained the rigid training necessary in the practice of commercial art before a meeting of the local Lions Club, demonstrating his talk with art samples which he has completed during the past year at the school. The work showed an abundance of talent and compared with the subjects explained to the club two years ago, exemplified the progress being made by the local student.

Joe Duffee of Tahoe City will have charge of the program next Wednesday.

A delegation of Lions from the Grass Valley club, including R. L. Jeffrord, Whiz Hartung, Maurice Kach and Eddie Stone, the latter a guest of the Jeffords from Ohio, were present. President C. Edmunds was in charge of the meeting.

NO CLUES FOUND IN SEARCH FOR STOLEN MACHINE

No clues have been unearthed that might lead to the recovery of the valuable 15-horse power electric motor stolen last week from the Winter sports pavilion here. A description of the loot has been broadcast, but to date no attempts, evidentally, have been made to dispose of it.

Officers said that Cheney is an ex-convict, having served a term in San Quentin from 1933 to 1935 on charges of grand theft.

A preliminary hearing will be held before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith.

SPORTSMEN WILL HOLD MEETING IN TRUCKEE FRIDAY

FISHING CONTINUES TO BE GOOD ON ALL LOCAL LAKES, RIVERS

Fishing on the Truckee river and it's tributaries and in surrounding lakes and streams is nearing the peak for the season. Numerous good catches have been recorded recently.

Jack Williams of Palm Springs landed a German Brown near Big Chief Camp on the Truckee last week that weighed nearly six pounds. He used a fly for lure.

A short time later, J. P. Strohbeen of Santa Cruz hooked a 23-inch German Brown near the same location. He used bait.

FLINTS LEAVE FOR NEW LOCATION AS RANGER IS INJURED

Flint has been employed at the local station as assistant ranger for several months. When King returns to his post Flint is expected to return to Truckee.

SKYROCKETING PRICES

It may not be an economic law, but it is an undisputed fact that in any period of inflation, prices go up first, wages last. At the present time our government is engaged in a praiseworthy attempt to raise our standards of living, but to many a preplexed worker treading water in a sea of rising prices, it means only that the cost of living is going up.

Higher wages and farm prices have fattened the consumer's pocketbook to some extent, but in the meantime prices have forged upward, and today the consumer's dollar will not buy nearly as much as it would in 1933. Price indexes compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board and the Department of Labor show that the family of modest means must pay 21 per cent more to subsist than it did four years ago. Rents are up 31 per cent, clothing 22 per cent, and, most alarming of all, food costs have risen 41 per cent.

We have had a bitter lesson in the dangers of inflation, too recent to be disregarded. We must exercise what legislative checks we can to prevent the over-extension of credit. But more important, we must guard against the crippling of the American system which must inevitably follow unnecessary taxation and useless regulation of the retailer.

Prosperity requires a favorable ratio between prices and wages, and unless we take care to keep the former from skyrocketing through the ceiling, it avails us little to raise the latter.

SLOPPY LEGISLATION

Theat "the law is an ass" is a phrase known to all readers of Dickens, but the mixup recently precipitated by the passage of California's new lethal gas bill makes us wonder if Mr. Bnmble's pronouncement shouldn't be revised to include the lawmakers, too. The measure was simply intended to substitute execution by lethal gas for execution by hanging as the death penalty in this state after August 27, but so carelessly worded was part of the bill that it seemed to make possible a convicted murderer's escape from death through a technicality.

Recently there was talk of calling a special session of the legislature to make the wording of the law conform with its intent, after the state attorney general's office had pointed out the loophole in it. With the number of lawyers in our two houses, it is difficult to understand such slipshod workmanship.

AND NOW EVEN INDIANS STRIKE

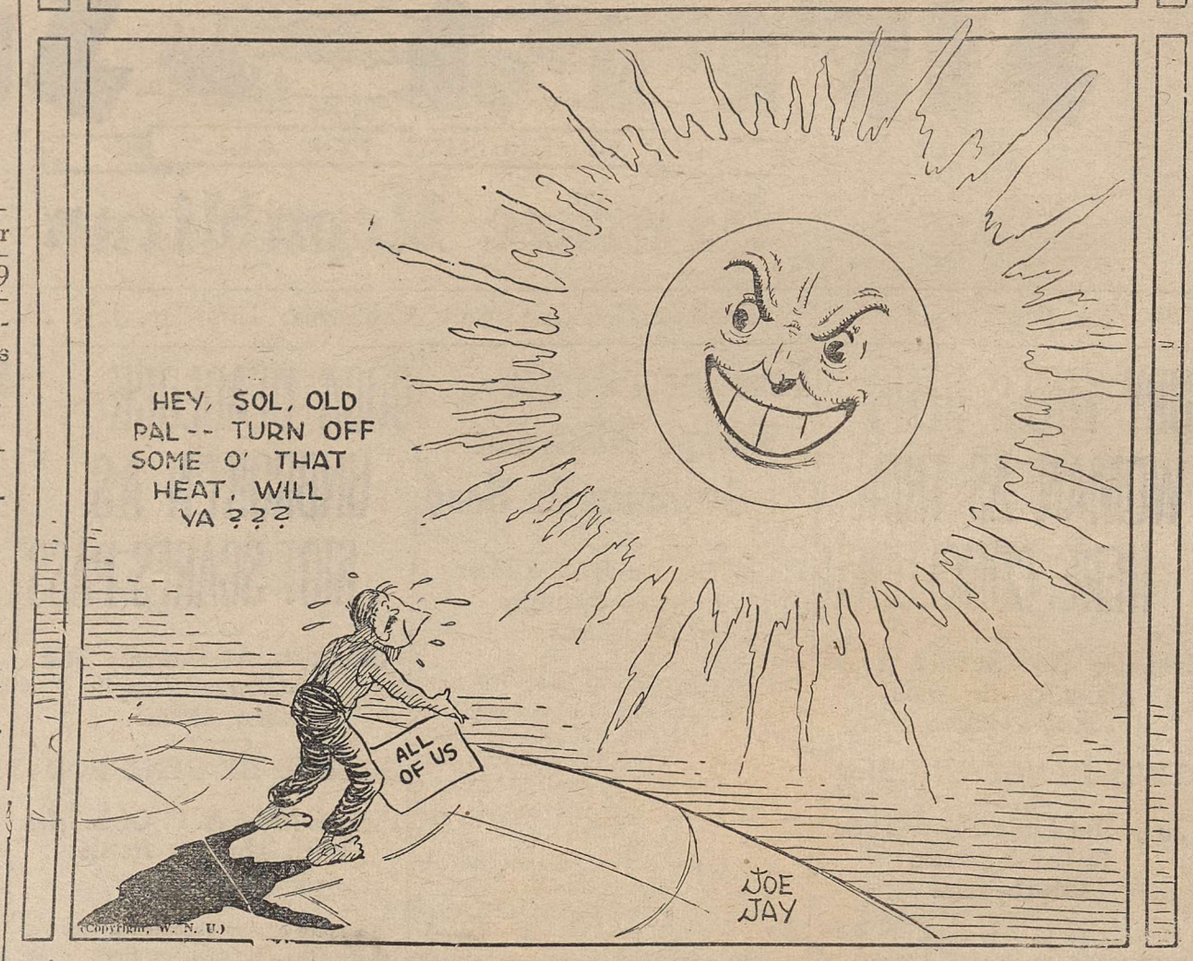
Strikes are so common these days that it takes death and violence to keep one on the front page, but recently there were instituted two uncommon ones.

In Japan, a group of geisha girls went on a self-imposed starvation strike to enforce their demands for higher fees for entertaining gentlemen.

In Yakima, Washington, preparing for its annual Pioneer Days celebration, the Yakima Indians who were supposed to give the show its old-time color, demanded [illegible] instead of the usual $1.50. They also demanded free hamburgers and tobacco and a cut on all souvenir postcards sold.

Sometimes we are forced to wonder if the benefits of our Western civilization are everything our professors claim for them.

How About It, Sol?



Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, July 29. —(UP)— Rumblings of complaint are being heard in capitol corridors in connection with the state's enforcement of certain regulations affecting the beer industry.

While no officials have commented upon it, there has been considerable "off the record" discussion and there was a possibility that statements may be frthcoming before long.

The muttering ascended when George M. Stout, liquor administrator for the board of equalization, announced the creation of a malt beverage division to handle all phases of the beer industry. Stout said that one of the outstanding evils of the industry was "Illegal and cut throat competition involving the rendering of financial assistance by manufacturers and wholesalers to licensees by means of supplying free goods, outside signs, equipment, secret rebates and excessive credits."

The California State Brewers Institute, recognizing those evils, turned to the state for help in eliminating them, and the state, through the board of equalization, agreed to regulate the industry.

That is what caused the rumbling of protest. Officials are beginning to wonder why the state should treat beer manufacturers and distributors any differently than it does manufactuers of soft drinks and other products. Shortly after repeal, almost everyone admitted that state regulation of purely industrial habits in connection with beer and liquor distribution and sale was advisable. But now, there are many who feel that the state should limit its supervision to policing and preventing the activities of racketeers, and let the industry itself take care of its own problems concerning prices and other concessions.

The state doesn't interfere with other industries except in cases of violation of the fair trades practice act. Competition exists in almost every line; prices of similar commodities vary; signs and display cases are furnished free.

cussed the problem recently and that at least one member believed is should discontinue handling so many problems for the beer industry.

No action was taken on the matter but a definite policy was expected to be formulated before long.

Along the same line, the California Restaurant Association has demanded that the board abolish free food from bars or lunch counters on the ground that "drinking would decrease because there would be less loitering in the absence of pretzels, peanuts and sandwiches 'on the house'."

There was considerable suspicion here that the real reason behind the demand was the elimination of competition. Restaurants supposedly lose business when persons limit their lunches to beer and peanuts.

J. F. O'Connor, United States comptroller of the currency, expressed a thought that exists in the minds of many when he said, upon being ask-

Four Seriously Injured As Car Leaves Highway

Tahoe City, July 29,—On Saturday night about 6:50 P. M. a car driven by W. O. Rhoades, about 40, of Walnut Grove, and containing his wife Ethel, about the same age, Mrs. Nettie A. Burnhardt, employee of the Dept. of Motor Vehicles, Sacramento, and Martin J. Smith, about 25, of Sacramento, was completely demolished when it sideswiped a school bus of Mrs. Stella Watson of Tahoe, being driven at very slow speed by Bob Watson. The accident occured at the concrete bridge between Tahoe and Truckee which crosses the Truckee river. Driving at excessive speed, 14 inches over the wrong side of the road (as subsequent investigation by Patrolman Gene Walker developed) the Rhoades car after striking the school bus hit the concrete bridge, turned over and rolled beneath it, further proghess to the bottom being retarded by a tree. All occupants of the wrecked car were reported injured the extent not immediately known as first aid treatment was administered by Dr. Burnham Sr. and his wife, summoned to the scene from their nearby summer home by Mrs. Watson. Patrolman Gene Walker, who, when sumoned by phone made the distance from Brockway to the scene of the wreck in 18 minutes, a real record, sent Rhoades to a Reno hospital in a Truckee ambulance, commandeering a Rubicon Point CCC truck to remove the others to Reno. Officer Walker plans to bring charges of reckless driving with injury ta passengers when Rhoades recovers. The pet bull pup belonging to one of the victims, picked up during the confusion, is being cared for at Tahoe by postmaster Janet Wilson. Slight damage was done the Watson bus, with no injury to it's ten passengers, enroute to Squaw Valley at the time.

The Letter Box

Editors Note:

Letters in this column do not necessarily reflect the editorial policy of thi s newspaper. The column is devoted to those who wish to express themselves on subjects of interest to the community.

Dear Sir:

After reading an account in the Reno Gazette, to which somebody made a statement to the effect that the Condon Construction Company at Boca, California has been carrying on negotiations or attempting to negotiate with this organization is without foundation and, false.

Up to this date the Condon Cnstruction Company has completely ignored our requests for an interview to settle this controversy.

Local 402, of the I. U. of M. M. & S. W. NOTIFIED the company that at 2:00 P. M. on July 26, the job would be declared unfair to all organized labor, therefore we found it necessary to establish picket lines. These picket lines were put at strategic points on the job to protect the company's interests as well as our own.

We wish to advise the public through the medium of the Sierra Sun anyone seeking employment with the Condon Construction Company, should they attempt to resume work will be classed as a "scab" on organized labor and will be treated as such.

ed if he would be a candidate for governor next year:

"I think we had better give the voters a break and not drag the campaign out for a year and a half."

Skeptics believed the true thought in the minds of most prospective candidates, however, was:

"I think I'd better wait awhile and see how things shape up before I commit myself."

The 1939 legislature may win the unquestioned power to grant pardons if a proposed initiative measure lands on the 1938 ballot and is approved by the people.

During this year's session, an effort was made to grant Tom Mooney a legislative pardon. It passed the assembly but was stopped by the senate. The main argument by many senators who voted against it was that the legislature had no power to grant a pardon. However, the upper house later defeated a resolution asking the governor to pardon Mooney.

The proposed initiative would give the legislature pardoning power and demand, specifically, the freedom of Mooney.

Final compilation of expenditure figures approved by the legislature revealed that the state will spend $531,200,000 during the present biennium. Of that amount, $439,318,000 was approved in the state budget, $33,881,000 in special appropriations, and $58,000,000 was expected from the federal government.

This will be the first time in history that state expenditures will exceed the half billion mark for a two-year period.

CALIFORNIA JUMPS INTO LEAD OF NATION FOR AUTOMOILE REGISTRATION

SACRAMENTO, July 29. —(UP)— Final compilation of automobile registration figures revealed that California jumped into the lead in the nation last year.

The state recorded 2,178,038 passenger cars, while New York registered 2,105,941 to slip into second place for the first time.

The figures gave California approximately one car to every three inhabitants, while in New York the ratio was less than one car to every six persons.

The assessed valuation of the Lake Tahoe property owned by the Hobart Estate Company will be increased following a vote of the Washoe County Commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization on July 26, according to advices from Reno, Nevada.

The Commissioners hold that the assessed valuation should be in accord with the price asked for the property, the present valuation being fixed at $147,615 for assessment purposes.

Federal forest officials have appraised the lands at $325,000 while the owners asked $625,000 when the government sought to purchase it some time ago.
